Travel travails

The land has hosted many legendary scholars, savants, sages, saints, philosophers, chroniclers and countless number of common people who have walked across its vast territory in the distant past during times when walking was the only option to reach places fired up by an undaunted spirit of exploration. We are now reading about their exploits with awe and in no frame of mind to go places on foot, except short distances per se like doing the last mile to reach chosen shrines. Maybe, Amarnath Yatra, the famed trek of 43-km undertaken by some 6,00,000 pilgrims every year, is an exception.

Tracing the makeover of humans from walking to commuting at increased speed and in comfort using various contraptions (bullock cart, bicycle, automobile, railway locomotive and aircraft taxiing before take off) to the inventing of the wheel may sound strange with hardly anybody giving due credit to its unknown inventor. That takes us to the point of talking about the amazing rise in the number of people shuttling between points of their origins and destinations.

One cannot be denied the flight of thought in saying that the arduous journeys of the aforementioned land's ancient scholars and others by walking were marked by wonderlust (the urge to gain knowledge in all its dimensions and propagate the same among the people at large). Juxtaposed to their enduring achievements is the current scenario of mass movement of people across the land and beyond marked by wanderlust, mostly for pleasure, not to speak of achieving anything that endures.

The number of people commuting over short as well as long distances by railways and roads across the country has already crossed dizzy figures, and counting. The phenomenal rise in their numbers and mass has far outpaced the rate of adding to the existing infrastructure (rail track and highways) as well as raising the level of related services, particularly in meeting the needs of comfort and safe food during journeys. Two threats to the safety of people on the move, namely sabotage of rail tracks and roads unfit for safe movement of automobiles have been rising by the day resulting in loss of life and limbs of lakhs of people every year. The third feature of substandard food served in insanitary style on the country's railway network, both on the moving trains and on platforms of railway stations has just been highlighted in a report by the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) tabled in the Parliament last week.

The difference between the wonderlust of the land's legendary saints and scholars of the past on one side and the wanderlust of the land's current masses is the essence of the difference between the traveller and the tourist. The former's travails and those of the latter are different kettles of fish. The land earned its cornucopia of knowledge garnered by the traveller and the government is cock-eyed on the revenue contributed by the pleasure-seeking tourist.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

When it comes to open-air urination in India, it's almost entirely a man's world. And let's admit, it's not only about the lack of public convenience facilities. Along with the ones that have been built by the Municipal authorities, we do have the* Sulabh Shauchalayas backed by a rather successful pay-per-use model. But today many of them are either clogged or locked up, and men relieve themselves on the walls of that very shauchalaya even as passing women scamper across with their pallu *on the face. It isn't about continence and self-control either. Well, not always! Unfair father !

Belgrade: 60-year-old Atifa Ljajic and her husband, Serif Nokic (68), from Serbia, had been trying to have a baby for over 20 years. When no one thought it was even possible anymore, the miracle happened. Atifa recently gave birth to a healthy girl, but on the same day, her husband left them, claiming that raising a baby at his age would be damaging to his health.

Atifa Jjajic is the second oldest mother in the history of Serbia. She had been trying to get pregnant for over two decades. Over the last few years, she attempted to in-vitro fertilisation five times, and on the last attempt, she managed to take her pregnancy to term and give birth to a beautiful baby girl. It was the happiest day of Atifa's life, but only for a few hours, because on that very same day, her husband announced that he was leaving them, because raising a baby at age 68 would be detrimental to his health. The 60-year-old mother only earns a modest pension, and has to pay off a loan she took for her pregnancy treatments, but, she is still in seventh heaven over finally having a child.

"Couple busting" service

Tokyo: Ginza Ladis 1, a private investigation services company in Japan, seems to think that having someone talk your cheating partner's lover into ending the relationship is the best way to get your love life back on track.

Welcome to Japan, the country where you can rent a person for virtually anything, from posing as your boyfriend and cuddling. Whatever your needs, you can probably find someone willing to cater to them, for a fee.

Ginza Ladis 1, recently gave an interview about their "couple busting" service, and it turns out that if the client is willing to pay a very generous fee, they can put together a movie-like scenario to ensure that they are successful in breaking up the extra-marital relationship. They start out by tracking your cheating spouse's partner, finding out their interests and hobbies, and then send in the "friend" to attend the same events so they get close to them. Once the rented friend has managed to gain the lover's trust, they proceed to convince them to break up the relationship.

Traffic woes near Schools: Some suggestions

Sir,

As schools are essential parts of our life, one will find them in all residential areas, commercial areas and even on main roads. Without going into the details of the traffic problems near these schools, I would like to make some suggestions which would require active participation of the school, civic body, Traffic Police authorities and the parents:

1. The Principal of the school should spend at least 10 minutes in a week during the school assembly to educate the students on traffic rules. It may not be a bad idea to invite a Traffic Superintendent to address the students on this subject occasionally.

2. The importance of walking on the footpath MUST be emphasised to the students. To facilitate this, civic authorities should ensure that a proper footpath is maintained around the school.

3. Parents dropping the children should also be responsible. They should drop their ward in the same side as the school so as to avoid children dashing across the busy road.

4. A drastic solution which is most effective in Western countries is as follows: The road facing the school from one crossing to the next crossing should be blocked for 20 minutes in the morning before the school starts and for 20 minutes after the school closes. Initially, Traffic Police may be required to administer but once the system is functioning smoothly, designated school teachers by rotation can take up this responsibility. (Even some of the senior citizens of the locality could take up this responsibility.)

School buses and parents dropping their children could drop them on either side of the no entry point and the children could then walk up to the gate without any worry of the traffic.

Even Class 5 students in a primary school could act as warden to escort the young Class1 and 2 students up to the gate. This would inculcate some responsibility and discipline to the senior students. I have personally seen this system work perfectly in USA.

Bengaluru, July 25 (KMS& BCT)- The world famous Mysuru Dasara will be celebrated with much fanfare from Sept. 21 to 30 despite uncertainty of monsoon being normal in Karnataka this season, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah said yesterday. Speaking to reporters, he said though the early monsoon was tardy, it was expected to bring sufficient rain to farmers lead a normal life. However, the Government will stand with them.

After chairing a Dasara High-Power Committee meeting at the third floor of Vidhana Soudha yesterday, the CM said, "We are suffering under drought conditions and rain Gods will prevail this year even if the early rains has failed. The State festival Dasara will go on with fanfare and people of the State will enjoy it. The festival will be a perfect blend of simplicity and grandeur," he said.

The Government has earmarked Rs. 15 crore for the celebrations, compared to previous year's allocation of Rs. 13.5 crore. Efforts will be made to attract tourists from across the globe, the CM said.

Dasara will be inaugurated on Sept. 21 at 9.15 am atop Chamundi Hill and Jumboo Savari will be held on Sept. 30. This year, Sept. 19 and 20 will be Mahalaya Amavasya and Navaratri will begin on Sept. 21.

The stretch of road between Mysore Palace and Bannimantap, where Jumboo Savari passes, has already been re-laid with concrete. Directions have been issued to the officials to develop all major roads in Mysuru by September. The Government will release Rs. 10 crore for this purpose, the CM said.

Mahadevappa will be the head of Dasara Festivities Committee and Primary and Secondary Education Minister Tanveer Sait will be its Vice-President. Tourism Minister Priyank Kharge will be head of the Publicity Committee and Kannada and Culture Minister Umashree will be the Member.

The CM has asked his officials to ensure that the Dasara Exhibition will be a unique one this time. He said that exhibitions must focus on the achievements of the State Government. Around 20 Departments of the Government will set up stalls, projecting their achievements. The Tourism Department has been entrusted with the responsibility of publicising the event. Road shows will be conducted in London, Paris, Bangkok and Singapore in order to attract tourists. Steps will be taken to sell tickets for viewing Jumboo Savari and Torch Light parade online, he added.

The Chief Minister said that he will look into a demand to exempt entry tax for tourist vehicles during Dasara. As part of Dasara, this time, the State Government will celebrate World Tourism Day in Mysuru on September 27 and many programmes will be launched to attract tourists, the CM said.

Hippo, elephant give birth at Mysuru Zoo

Mysuru, July 25 (MTY&KS)- It's time to rejoice at Mysuru Zoo as an Asiatic Elephant and a Hippo have given birth.

Though a Wolf, Bison, Sambar Deer and a few animals had given birth during February and March this year, an Asiatic Elephant has given birth after a gap of 13 years at the Zoo.

On July 21, 13-year-old Iravathi, which was paired with Abhi, gave birth to a female calf. Though Iravathi found it difficult to feed her calf initially, timely intervention from the Zoo Veterinarian and her keeper, made it easy for her to feed. The calf is now moving around in its area and the other elephants too are co-operating with the new guest.

Another happy news is that Hippo Soundarya gave birth to a calf on July 22. She was paired with Sooraj. This is the second litter of the pair. It is yet to be known whether it is a male or a female calf.

"Two years ago, Soundarya had given birth and till now it is not known if the calf is male or female. We have to wait for two years to know whether it is a male or a female calf as it always stays in water," said Zoo officials who added that both the mothers and the calf were healthy.

Meanwhile, Zoo Executive Director C. Ravishankar said that it is happy news that an Asiatic Elephant has given birth after decades and added that the birth of a hippo calf has added happiness to us. "We are monitoring the health of both the calves on priority and the tourists and visitors are very happy to see the calves," he said.

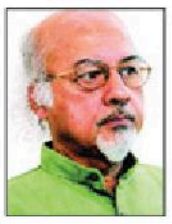
Lalu is natural target in the fight against corruption, but the problem is larger. All parties are guilty



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Mention corruption, and the names of some politicians jump out like registered trademarks. Lalu Prasad Yadav is right when he says that the BJP Government is hunting him for political reasons. The Government has indeed been using the CBI to hunt its opponents on a selective basis. But it is able to play politics of revenge because facts are there to exploit. Lalu has been a synonym for corruption in unique ways — the only leader who breaks laws with defiance and daring.

When his second daughter Rohini got married in 2002, arrangements had to be made on a grand scale, which meant dozens of cars for guests, comfortable sofas and chairs for use in the pandal, dry fruits, provisions, garlands and so on. Organising them was no problem for Lalu. Musclemen walked into car showrooms in Patna and just took away all the models there.

Others went to furniture storerooms, cake shops, grocery shops, fruit and dry-fruit stalls and flower shops and just took things away. What an original idea! The press published reports but didn't quote shop-owners who were so scared that they pleaded for anonymity. But Rohini got happily married. Those were also days when kidnapping for ransom flourished. Well-known doctors were among those who lived in fear.

No Indian politician has so openly misused power. Nor has any other leader pushed the family into power with the same 'I-am-the-proprietor' attitude. When the courts disqualified Lalu following the fodder scam (fraudulent payments for non-existent cattle feed), he unashamedly put his illiterate wife Rabri in the Chief Minister's chair. In the united front with Nitish Kumar, he got two of his sons into the Cabinet, one as Deputy Chief Minister. His daughter Misa, inheritor of many of her father's special talents, is in Parliament.

Left to himself, Lalu Prasad would think it perfectly natural for Rabri Devi to become President of the country, Misa to become Prime Minister, Tejaswi the Home Minister with additional charge of Industries, Finance and Information, Tej Pratap the Chief Minister of Bihar, and daughters Rohini, Ragini, Chanda, Hema, Rajalakshmi and Dhannu to be named ambassadors to the world's big powers. He would want nothing for himself except his formal portrait to hang in all government offices as the most loving husband and father in Indian history.

How nasty of CBI to get going suddenly and shatter all the dreams. It filed charges with unusual promptness, claiming that the family had acquired nearly a thousand crore rupees worth of benami properties in a decade. Contracts for the maintenance of railway hotels and licence for a liquor factory were the kind of favours given in return for prime properties. There was a "gift" of land even by Rabri Devi's cattle-shed owner. Some unkindly opponents referred to Lalu as "the Robert Vadra of Bihar."

Lalu Prasad would think it perfectly natural for Rabri Devi to become President of India, Misa to become Prime Minister, Tejaswi the Home Minister with additional charge of Industries, Finance and Information, Tej Pratap the Chief Minister of Bihar, and daughters Rohini, Ragini, Chanda, Hema, Rajalakshmi and Dhannu to be named ambassadors to the world's big powers.

Lalu's operations were wide and his attitude reckless. Therefore he made himself easy prey to his opponents. But deeper is the corruption that goes on at the grassroots. There has been a drop, since Narendra Modi's rise, in big-ticket scandals in Delhi like the Commonwealth Games or the Spectrum sale. But that does not lighten the burden of everyday corruption that continues as before. The last Transparency International report put the total bribe Indians paid to access routine government services at Rs. 21,000 crore. (How? Go and register a trust or a will at any sub-registrar office and you will know).

All parties contribute to this shame despite the BJP's holier than thou posture. A former Gujarat Chief Minister's daughter faced charges of getting 422 acres of land from the State Government at Rs. 15 per square meter when the government's own prevailing rate was Rs. 180 per square meter. The long-running Vyapam scam in Madhya Pradesh rocked Parliament again recently but is yet to be fully investigated. Lalit Modi, with friends in BJP, is not trawled the way Vijay Mallya is though both are absconders of the same kind. Most importantly, some BJP leaders in Kerala have been found to have taken money to help start new medical colleges in the State.

Prime Minister Modi made yet another call for a corruption-free India when he said, at the all-party meet on the eve of Parliament's current session, that it was the responsibility of all political parties to take action against corrupt leaders. All parties? That sounds like an instruction to the Karnataka BJP to find a clean Chief Minister candidate instead of one who was jailed for corruption the first time around.

Multi-level Basement Parking in Town Hall to be completed by Dasara?

The rubble being removed from the Town Hall premises.

The work at the entry point to parking lot is stalled.

Once completed, nearly 700 cars and 500 two-wheelers can be parked

Mysuru, July 25 (MTY&NNN)- To ease parking problem in the Central Business District (CBD), the Mysuru City Corporation had come up with an idea of constructing a parking lot in the Town Hall premises. Thus, the serene atmosphere of the place, which is now in an ugly mess, was destroyed.

The work of constructing the multi-level basement parking began on April 29, 2011 at an estimated cost of Rs. 18.28 crore. The work was to be completed within a year by April, 2012.

However, the contractor Chabbra Associates, Secunderabad, who bagged the contract had missed several deadlines. So far, works worth Rs. 10.86 crore has been completed. Meanwhile, as the contractor failed to complete the project in spite of many missed deadlines, the company was blacklisted about two years ago and the work came to a standstill.

The incomplete work is likely to be completed as the re-tendering process is over and the provisional opening will be held before Dasara begins this year, said the sources in MCC to SOM.

The multi-level basement parking getting ready at Town Hall premises.

Out of the 6,000 sq. mtr roof, 4,980 sq.mtr work has been completed. In all, there are 202 column and the work on six column is yet to begin. However, one more part of the foundation is still to be excavated. The work on nearly 400 metres of the retaining wall of the 460 metres has been completed.

The whole place is in a mess as there is lot of rubble lying around the Town Hall premises. The clearing of the rubble is going on and the source said that action is being taken by Mayor M.J. Ravikumar and MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha to speed up the work.

The clearance of boulders, stones and other materials that have piled up is also going on at a brisk pace. The entry and exit to parking lot are also being readied. The entry is from the main entrance to Town Hall, while the exit leads to Gandhi Square side. Nearly 700 cars and 500 two-wheelers can be parked once the work is completed.

The work on the amphitheatre that is coming up above the basement parking and the stage where political rallies and other functions will be held, is also going on.

However, the question uppermost in the minds of the people is, will the MCC be able to meet the deadline this time and ease the parking woes during Dasara, or will it miss the deadline again as it has done in the case of the much-touted Raja Marga which saw shoddy work and missing deadlines?

The work on the amphitheatre above the parking lot is underway.

Water to canals: HDK joins JD(S) dharna in city

Threatens to launch padayatra from Hunsur to Bengaluru

Mysuru, July 25 (MTY&BCT)- With over 10 months remaining for the Karnataka Assembly elections, all the three political parties, the Congress, the JD(S) and the BJP, seems to be in a poll mode.

While the Congress is basking in glory with the Government's achievements in the last four years and has launched a publicity blitzkrieg, the BJP is silently doing its 'Vistarak' programme where leaders are visiting grassroot workers to drum up support. Not to be left behind, the JD(S) has taken up the cudgels for farmers and is raising farmer issues at every available platform.

Yesterday, the party, under the leadership of K.R. Nagar MLA S.R. Mahesh, launched an indefinite dharna at Command Area Development Authority (CADA-Cauvery) office in city demanding immediate release of Cauvery water from the Harangi Dam to Kattepura and Goruru canals for farmers to take up agricultural activities.

The dharna that began in the afternoon entered the second day today and as part of the dharna, the protesters attempted to lock the chamber of CADA Superintending Engineer. The Police, however, prevented the protesters from doing so.

To express solidarity with the agitators and to boost their morale, State JD(S) President Kumaraswamy arrived at the CADA office at around 12.15 pm after visiting Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill.

Addressing the protesters, Kumaraswamy said that the Congress State Government led by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah was more interested in releasing water to Tamil Nadu than releasing water to canals for farmers to take up agricultural activities. "The State Government has no planning and even last year, it did the same destroying thousands of hectares of standing crops," he said.

"As per our information, over 15,000 cusecs of water is being released from Harangi, Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS), Kabini dams but a single drop of water has not been released to the canals," he said and added that while Tamil Nadu was giving a tough time to Karnataka by meticulously planning and filing a series of applications for water release in the Supreme Court, Karnataka's lawyers were fumbling before the Judges.

Kumaraswamy said that if water was not released to canals within one week, he would lead a padayatra from Hunsur to Bengaluru. During the protest today, Taluk Health Officer Srinivas was stationed beside MLA S.R. Mahesh. The doctor continuously monitored the MLA's health.

City JD(S) President Harish Gowda, MLCs K.T. Srikantegowda, Appaji Gowda, MLA Chikkamadu, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, former Mayors, Corporators and party workers were present.

Kovind sworn-in as President

CEREMONIAL PROCESSION

From there, both Mukherjee and Kovind arrived in the Central Hall in a ceremonial procession. They arrived together in a black Mercedes Benz S600 (W221) Pullman Guard. It is a custom-built, heavily armoured limousine which meets the requirements of the highest protection class. At the Central Hall, they were received by presiding officers of the two Houses — the Lok Sabha Speaker and the Vice-President, who is the Chairman of Rajya Sabha.

After the swearing-in ceremony, President Kovind and his predecessor Pranab Mukherjee exchanged seats. A 21-gun salute was given in his honour and new President then delivered his acceptance speech and addressed the nation for the first time.

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

In his address, Kovind said that he was honoured to be sworn-in as the President.

"It was in this Central Hall that I had discussions with many of you. We've had our agreements and disagreements but we learnt to respect each others' views and this is the beauty of democracy. I want people to know that I will fulfil my duties towards them," he said.

POST-CEREMONY

Post the swearing-in ceremony, Kovind left with Mukherjee for Rastrapathi Bhavan. An Inter-Services Guard of Honour was given to Ram Nath Kovind in the forecourt at the 300-acre Raisina Hill and courtesies were extended to the outgoing President. Pranab Mukherjee also gave the new President a tour of the official residence — the Rastrapathi Bhavan.

Later, President Ram Nath Kovind escorted Mukherjee to his new residence — 10, Rajaji Marg, where former President A.P.J. Abdul Kalam also lived. This was Mukherjee's last ride in the Presidential limousine.

A PROUD MOMENT

New Delhi, July 25- It was a proud moment for Colonel Bommanda Dhiraj Chengappa from Kodagu as he led a contingent of 46 horse-mounted Bodyguards and presented the National Salute to President Ram Nath Kovind. The President's Bodyguards also escorted Kovind to the Parliament House for the swearing-in.

Later, both President Kovind and ex-President Pranab Mukherjee were given an Inter Services Guard of Honour separately. On conclusion of the Guard of Honour, The President's Bodyguards escorted Mukherjee from the forecourt to the Iron Gate of the Rastrapathi Bhavan.

Four more nabbed in KSOU fake marks card racket

Skeletons keep tumbling; More you dig, more you get

Mysuru, July 25 (RK&NNN)- The rot in the fake marks card racket in the Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) is getting deeper and murkier, as more and more skeletons tumble out.

With the City Crime Branch (CCB) successfully nabbing four more persons, including a temporary employee of KSOU, some of the facts are coming to light. And, as one of the CCB officers told Star of Mysore, "The more you dig, more you get."

The four others arrested are KSOU temporary employee Prajwal, a resident of Gokulam, Chikamagalur's Kisan, Mahadevapura Layout resident Menon and Kolar's Sagar.

It may be recalled that the CCB Police had arrested a woman, Yashaswini, on July 20, near Mini Vidhana Soudha, Nazarbad and recovered hundreds of fake marks cards from her. When she was subjected to intense questioning, she revealed the names of four others. After arresting them on Sunday, the Police recovered a few more marks cards and certificates. They were produced before the Magistrate yesterday afternoon and remanded to Police custody for four days (till July 28).

During the course of interrogation, it was revealed that Prajwal, who is a temporary employee in KSOU, had joined hands with Yashaswini and was involved in preparing fake marks cards of SSLC, PUC and Diploma courses and selling them to gullible students.

Along with selling fake marks cards, Prajwal, it is learnt, is also involved in money-doubling racket and duping a lot of people. A separate case of fraud has been registered for this too. The tentacles of the gang involved in the fake marks card racket have spread throughout the State and outside too.

Outreach Programmes

The KSOU was also running outreach programmes and the Centres had been set up not only in the State but also in many other parts of the country. However, when KSOU lost its recognition in 2014-15, even these centres were supposed to be de-recognised.

But, during the course of the investigation of Prajwal and other members of the gang, the Police stumbled upon the racket that has much deeper ramifications. The gang continued to operate, convincing the gullible students of the authenticity of the outreach programmes and that they could get them those marks cards (even though there was no recognition). They have made crores of rupees in this racket, the Police have found out.

It is learnt that apart from the five fraudsters, even the officials in the KSOU might be involved in the huge fake marks card racket.

Teams formed

The CCB has formed three teams to investigate into the racket. The first team is headed by CCB ACP C. Gopal, the second one by Inspector Prasanna Kumar and the third by Inspector C. Raju. The CCB staff will assist all the three teams in the investigations.

The teams along with the five accused will visit the Outreach centres in the State to find out the extent of involvement of those running the centres in the fake marks card racket. Since the five are in Police custody until July 28, the Police might seek extension of their custody if the investigation is not complete, said a source in the CCB to SOM.

His salary is Rs. 9,000, but he drives around in a Benz !

He was getting a salary of Rs. 9,000, but he drives around in a Benz car. This is the lifestyle of Prajwal, a temporary employee in KSOU, involved in the fake marks card racket. A resident of Gokulam, he is always found sporting flashy gold jewellery around his neck and fingers.

After joining KSOU as a temporary employee, he got involved in the fake marks cards racket realising how gullible people can be that they would part with lakhs of rupees for fake marks cards. Thus, he and his accomplices including the woman Yashaswini, duped thousands of students and made lakhs of rupees.

Prajwal, it is said, is adept at creating fake marks cards and he and his gang not only produced marks cards of KSOU but also that of other Universities outside the State.

With the kind of money he was earning, he started lending it on huge interest and thus earned more and more. His lifestyle also changed and he began leading a life of luxury, the investigations revealed.

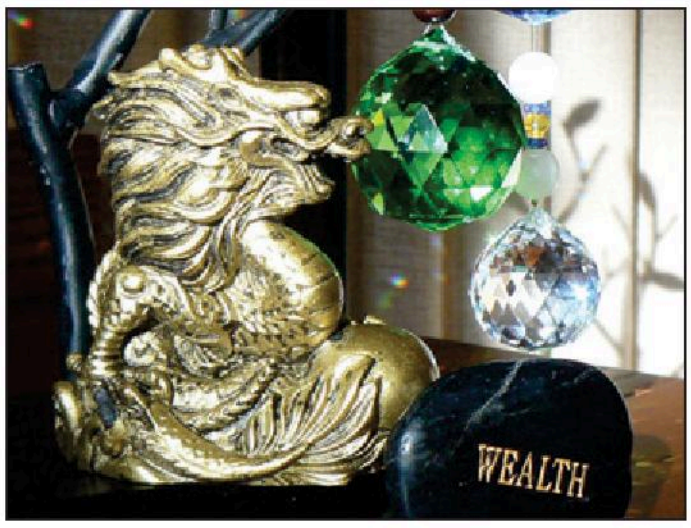
Vibrant homes for prosperity



Identifying the good sectors based on the orientations of the building, compass directions and neighbourhood afflictions and countering the ill-effects of the bad sectors within the building is the basis of authentic Feng Shui analysis.

We literally mirror our environments and it is a known fact that like attracts like and vibrates in harmony. The mystical actually influences the practical. Hence, adapting appropriate Feng Shui enhancers and cures in the specific sectors of a building can truly bring in abundance.

It is said that, a large portion of the future occupant's fate can be decided by the way the building is placed on a piece of land. Using time-tested mathematical formulas based on the date and how a structure is to be placed on a piece of land, one could build a home that ushers success, prosperity, good health, and a happy family life.

Feng Shui has been used in the home to improve such things as wealth and careers, find new partners, start families, help children to study, improve family harmony and later in life to support and improve our health so that we can enjoy the wealth which we have accumulated over the years. Our prosperity is really a reflection of our thoughts formed by the perceptions of the outer world. Hence, harmonising our inner self and our immediate surroundings can open the channels to achieve greater prosperity and abundance in our lives.

Feng Shui teaches us that our surroundings affect us and that we, in turn, are reflections of our surroundings. Since everything has an energy field and is, in a sense, "alive," everything is connected, and everything is always changing, it makes sense that we are greatly influenced by the things and people around us.

Feng Shui is all about positive vibes and abundance, and oriental texts say that abundance has a particular vibration, a signature energy field. Hence, when the building resonates in harmony it leads to both more flow and more energy between occupants and their desires and create prosperity and good health through positive vibes.

• Avoid barriers in front of the door such as light partitions where you have to navigate around them to move to the next space. By 'opening up' the space, this technique immediately expands your front door sector many times over.

• Choose the décor, furniture and colours according to what they symbolise and represent, as different colours represent different elements and have different symbolisms.

• Activate the dragon energy by placing a figurine in the East sector of your home or living room to bring in good health and harmony.

• Create a collage or dedicate a wall with a happy picture of the whole family in the living room to be prominent on the wall is a very powerful Feng Shui enhancer which simulates a feel of togetherness and safety to the whole family.

Creating synchronisation and resonance between objects, is a basic scientific treatise and a major step towards manifesting heart's desires.

4,500 KSRP posts vacant: ADGP Bhaskar Rao

KSRP ADGP Bhaskar Rao seen watering a sapling planted at KSRP Parade Ground on Sunday.

Mysuru, July 25 (MTY&NNN)- There is shortage of 4,500 Police personnel in KSRP. We have also not been able to implement the Supreme Court order of giving promotion to a few, regretted Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) ADGP Bhaskar Rao. He was speaking to the media at the KSRP Grounds, here on Sunday and said that there are 4,500 vacant posts in KSRP and the State Government was filling it in stages.

In the coming days, it has been decided to observe Martyrs Day in KSRP too. The Government has already allotted 150 buses to us. Band sets have been given to all the battalions at a cost of Rs. 1.50 crore. The cooking sets on the lines of the one in Dharmasthala is provided to all the kitchens, he said.

A modern touch is being given to KSRP. A lot of thinking has gone into make the KSRP a more dynamic force and to wean them away from disinterestedness, untimely death, suicidal tendencies and instead to create self confidence and self belief, he said.

"The Cycle Jatha, which began from Bidar on July 12 will end in Bengaluru on July 25. To keep the activities in the KSRP alive, always this Jatha has been undertaken. The aim of the Jatha is to spread the message of unity, integrity and to create awareness about Swachh Bharat. It is also to highlight that Karnataka-Hyderabad region, Karntaka-Karavali and Karnataka-Mumbai are all a part of the State," said Rao.

"During the Jatha, people's feelings have been understood. We have interacted with them. We have to educate the children and understand that not just the Police, even the public are part of the society. We are working in the public sphere, is the awareness we are creating as part of this campaign," he said.

"In every district, 60 saplings have been planted during the Jatha. Emphasis has been laid in the tourism circuits like Vijayapura, Udupi, Hampi, Belur-Halebidu and Mysuru to increase the use of bicycles. The Home Department will be approached for the permission," he said.

Promotion

Many KSRP personnel, who had not been given promotion for several years, have been given promotion and transferred. Some of them want to be transferred to another battalion. However, to give promotion and also transfer is difficult, said Bhaskar Rao.

There are reserve forces in two camps in Vijayapura and Munirabad and training is given to tackle problems in Jammu and Kashmir and Naxal activities. Similar training is planned for KSRP also, he said.

Excerpts...

By C.K. Muralidharan

Star of Mysore (SOM): After having achieved so much, what is your next target?

Mary Ann Gomes: Having tasted success in higher level, I realised that there is still much more to achieve. I want to become a Grand Master, which is the ultimate dream of every chess player. I have been moving forward in the right direction and I am confident of the achieving my goal in the days to come.

SOM: How do you prepare for a championship?

Mary: I have been continuously taking part in several tournaments. Recently, I participated in the Commonwealth Games and had decent run. Right now I am working on improving my overall game. In this particular tournament I have started with a win and I hope to fare well.

SOM: After winning the National Championships three-times in a row, you seem to have lost your appetite for winning titles. What do you have to say?

Mary: It was great feeling to complete a hat-trick of National Champions. I guess the hunger for winning more titles dimmed as I lost the focus and my game was not up to the mark. Now, I am trying to catch up with the others who are performing well. Hopefully, I will get back to winning more tournaments and reach great heights.

SOM: When was your first Olympiad and tell us about your performance there?

Mary: I first represented India in the Olympiad in 2006 at Italy. Later, I played at Olympiads held at Germany (2008), Turkey (2012) and Norway (2014). In 2008, I won a silver medal in the 4th board.

SOM: Your best performance so far?

Mary: My best performance was in the world team championships in 2013 at Kazakhstan where I won a bronze medal in board four and India finished fifth.

SOM: How do you see your future in chess?

Mary: Like I said earlier, I want to become a Grand Master. Currently, my rating is 2,331 and I aim to achieve 2,400 rating by next year. I have been trained hard and my coaches Niranjan Kumar Mishra and GM Deepan Chakravarthy have been guiding me and helping me to improve my game.

SOM: How has the support been from PSPB?

Mary: The PSPB has been very supportive. The organising has been extending us all facilities and has been providing us ample time to prepare for tournament and championships.

Kavita Memorial Award presented

Mysuru, July 25 (US&SBD)- 'Dignity is defined by the behaviour of a person and not by his orher dress,' opined Theatre Artiste Rameshwari Verma.

She was speaking at a programme organised by Yashoda Ragow Trust at Mahajana College auditorium here yesterday to mark presentation of Kavita Memorial Award and a lecture session.

Rameshwari Verma recalled that of late there were a lot of discussions on dresses worn by teachers and lecturers to classrooms. She expressed surprise over remarks of a few people that chudidar was not a dignified dress. She further said that right from the days of Akkamahadevi, pro-women movements have been conducted.

She pointed to a wrong notion among people in society that women standing equal to men was a western culture. Hence she contended that it was difficult for women to establish their position in society. She regretted that a condition has arrived where women have to confine to four walls of a house.

On the occasion, Kavita Memorial Award was presented to poetess and woman activist Roopa Hassan.

Addressing the gathering, Roopa pointed out that despite several movements women continue to languish in society like an ox tethered to a post.

She added that if a woman takes two steps forward, she would be pulled back by four steps. She further said that the society was viewing women as just child-bearing machines but forgets to identify and respect the personality of a woman.

Writer Dr. Chandramati Sondha delivered a lecture on 'Women organisations in Karnataka — An overview.' MLA Vasu presided. Trust office-bearers Dr. Ramegowda (Ragow) and Yashoda Ragow were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Tare

Pronunciation: TAIR

Meaning: A deduction from the gross weight of a substance and its container made in allowance for the weight of the container; also: the weight of the container; counterweight; The tare of a container is its weight when it's empty, which is important to know when you can't weigh something without putting it into something else.

Origin: Tare came to English by way of Middle French from the Old Italian term tara, which is itself from the Arabic word ṭarḥa, meaning "that which is removed." One of the first known written records of the word tare in English is found in the naval inventories of Britain's King Henry VII. The record shows two barrels of gunpowder weighing, "besides the tare," 500 pounds. When used of vehicles, tare weight refers to a vehicle's weight exclusive of any load. The term tare is closely tied to net weight, which is defined as "weight excluding all tare."

THE ODD WORD

Strappado

A punishment or torture in which the victim was hoisted in the air on a rope and then allowed to fall almost to the ground before being stopped with an abrupt jerk.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Needle in a Haystack

Meaning: Something that is extremely difficult to find. Anything that's on the verge of being impossible.

Origin: Today, this phrase is typically said as "It's like trying to find a needle in a haystack." This is considered to be an extremely difficult thing to do, and rightly so. Finding a tiny needle in a big stack of hay, while not impossible, would take a considerable amount of time and effort. Hence, when people are having trouble finding things in modern times, they often say this phrase to indicate the difficulties they are having. As for where the phrase originates from is entirely clear. Here's what is known: This phrase is written in an old book titled The Complete Works of Washington Irving, published in 1834. As you will see from the quote, this expression is already well-established at the time:

"If I want to find any particular article, it is, in the language of a humble but expressive saying, 'looking for a needle in a haystack.'" This phrase is believed to go back to the 1600s, but there is no written recording of it from that century. The above quote is the earliest recording known for now.
